CEO MESSAGE

What's more energizing than products that make you feel great and an opportunity that pays you to SHARE? We are always so encouraged to hear the hundreds of stories of lives changed for the better because of Gano Excel. When I hear about a gentleman who has a renewed sense of energy to live life to the fullest, or a young woman who is empowered by her business to be the leader she knew she could be, these stories revitalize me. A healthy mind and body are just the beginning. Think of the wonderful ways to spend your time, your wisdom, your passion, thanks to the all-natural revitalization of Ganoderma lucidum. You could lift up your community, treasure more time with your grandchildren or even travel to far off places like our home in Malaysia.

In the 21st century, we have found new ways to measure and use time — down to one trillionth of a billionth of a second — that have given us more control over how we want to spend it. With more possibilities about how to spend time, it has become a common goal of a modern lifestyle today to try to fill our every second. The time we have is limited, so why not put as much of it as possible to good use? It is a question that motivates us to achieve more, to innovate and to make memories with those we love. Doing more can allow someone to pursue their ultimate “why.” However, a busy lifestyle also comes with a downside: the stress and imbalance it can bring to the human body.

Thankfully, nature provides all sorts of nutritious ways to support the healthy functions of the body. From supporting mental acuity to the body's immune response, enriching your body with natural vitamins, herbs and minerals feeds your cells with the power they need to thrive. With cells that are performing at their best, you can focus more of your newfound energy toward achieving your goals and dreams! What does this revitalization do for you?

Last month, we started a hashtag called #MyGanoLifestyle. Snap a photo of yourself living the new life that Gano Excel affords you and post it to Facebook or Instagram using this hashtag. We love seeing all of the ways the health and wealth of Ganoderma lucidum benefit your life!

Sincerely,

Mr. Ooi Chin Aik,
Chief Executive Officer, Gano Excel | North America

SUNBASKET'S HEALTH MISSION THROUGH HEALTHY FOOD DELIVERY

You've probably heard the old saying "you are what you eat." The point being, what you feed your body matters. The food is broken down by enzymes into digestible compounds that are then absorbed and delivered to hungry cells. Feeding your cells with natural, healthy nutrients makes them happy, while other questionable or toxic compounds can cause them stress. A modern lifestyle often makes convenient food at odds with healthy nutrition. One company who is working to bridge the gap is Sunbasket.

Sunbasket was founded by professional chef Justine Kelly, tech entrepreneur Adam Zbar and creative guru Tyler MacNiven to make healthy cooking easier for people with restrictive diets or special preferences. Kelly and her team envisioned delivering pre-prepared meal kits that addressed these dietary concerns as well as emphasizing healthy trends in the food industry such as organic produce and sustainably sourced protein. The company was founded in 2014 after seeing the market was responding well to industry pioneers like Blue Apron and Hello Fresh.

After a few years, the market was flooded with more than 300 brands trying to deliver on the meal kit concept, and many failed early on or were acquired by larger grocery chains. Blue Apron and Hello Fresh transitioned to public companies. Sunbasket remains the largest and most successful privately owned meal kit company in the United States. While other companies have struggled to compete, Sunbasket has experienced year-to-year growth and higher retention rates. It turns out that customers are willing to stay loyal to a brand dedicated to both health and convenience.

By the end of 2019, the bottom was ready to fall out from under the meal kit industry. Then in 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic resulted in an astronomical shift in how many people shopped for food. Suddenly, a massive amount of new prospects were cooking at home. They wanted to order fresh food online and have it delivered to their doors. Business boomed for the meal kit industry. However, as quarantine fatigue set in, many saw the enthusiasm and time for cooking meals fade.

Now, as the restrictions of the pandemic continue to subside, the question on Sunbasket's mind is which trends will stick around and how can they continue to meet the need going forward. Between 2020 and 2021, Sunbasket doubled down on its commitment to quality food, but broadened its options as to how it can be prepared. For customers seeking the most convenience, the company introduced new Fresh & Ready meals that are fully cooked and only need reheating. It also now curates a variety of healthy options for breakfast, lunch and snacks.

Kelly continues to craft her menu around foods that are organic, vegan or allergen-free. Although many customers may not be cooking as often, they still love the convenience of healthy food and grocery delivery. While Sunbasket's customers may have varying levels of kitchen skills or time to cook, these values of health and convenience continue to drive the company forward. The stakes are high. Sunbasket needs to capture these stable, lasting trends in order to remain profitable, and in business.

Gano Excel is doing its own part to deliver healthy food and beverages that can be enjoyed on the go. Its GanoCafè products all come to life simply by stirring in hot water. GanoPlus products can be enjoyed by mixing with cool water from a bottle, jug or tap. This makes the delicious Ganoderma-enriched products easy to prepare and enjoy, even when away from home.

As Sunbasket fights to maintain profits, Gano Excel Affiliates are earning income toward achieving personal financial goals, from a little extra spending money, to paying off debt and even generating full-time income. Our business model is simple: share the wonderful Ganoderma-enriched products that you love and teach others to do the same. By sharing with as few as two people and teaching them to do the same, you can begin the process of replication. Replicating your business creates a stream of residual income thanks to the binary commissions earned on a weekly basis.

This opportunity for health and wealth is relevant to people of all backgrounds, and in all economic environments. It's a trend that you can expect to continue well into the future.

BRAIN FOOD: TOP 10

FOODS YOUR MIND LIKES TO EAT

Did you know the brain uses around 20% of the body's calories? It is one of the most energy-intensive organs in the body! Fueling your mind with healthy, nutrient-rich foods can make you feel super energized and ready to take on any task. With a revitalized sense of clarity and focus, you can blaze through your day with confidence. Want to give your mind some of its favorite foods? Here are our top 10:

1. Blueberries & Açai Berries

Colorful berries contain powerful antioxidants called flavonoids. One of the brain's favorite flavonoids is anthocyanin, a beautiful compound that gives blueberries and açai berries their intense blue color. A 2012 study from Harvard University tied this rich antioxidant to improved memory. Research in 2014 showed it improved communication between brain cells.

2. Salmon

Salmon and other oily fish contain healthy Omega-3 fatty acids. The brain loves these fats. Not only does it use them to build new brain cells and membranes, but studies have shown they can help increase blood flow to the brain, protect against depression and may even lower levels of a harmful protein called beta-amyloid.

3. Coffee

The natural caffeine found in coffee has shown to benefit the brain. It has been well known for its stimulating effects for centuries. Research by Johns Hopkins University in 2014 also suggests that caffeine can help stimulate learning and the formation of new memories.

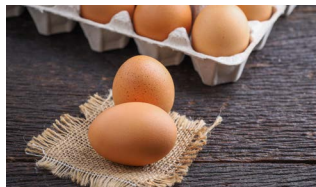

4. Spinach

Leafy greens like spinach are rich in Vitamin K, as well nutrients such as lutein, folate and beta-carotene. Vitamin K supports the production of sphingolipids, which are a type of fat used to generate brain cells! Some research also suggests that Vitamin K may help to slow cognitive decline.

5. Broccoli

In addition to a healthy dose of Vitamin K, broccoli also produces powerful antioxidants through its own compounds like glucosinolates and sulforaphane. These reduce oxidative stress in the brain by taking out free radicals that bog down the healthy function of brain cells.

6. Eggs

Eggs are an excellent source of healthy B-vitamins, including Vitamin B6, B12, and folic acid. One 2010 study showed that these vitamins may help slow cognitive decline. It also contains a compound called choline, which creates an important neurotransmitter that helps the brain tell the body what to do.

7. Dark Chocolate

Yes! The perfect reason to indulge. The cacao flavonoids found in dark chocolate have shown to have multiple benefits. A 2013 study in the British Journal of Clinical Pharmacology showed they support neuron and blood vessel growth in the brain and stimulate blood flow. A 2018 study at Loma Linda University showed they can improve brain plasticity, and a 2011 study in the U.K. tied them to an improvement in cognitive function.

8. Turmeric

Turmeric is rich in a natural compound called curcumin. In 2006, a study in the Journal of Alzheimer's Disease suggested curcumin may help reduce levels of the harmful protein beta-amyloid in the brain. Other studies suggested that curcumin may also help stimulate mood-boosting hormones serotonin and dopamine.

9. Pumpkin Seeds

Seeds and nuts are a great source of Vitamin E, which protects cells from oxidative stress and may support cognition. Pumpkin seeds are also high in important minerals zinc and magnesium. Zinc is used for nerve signaling in the brain and magnesium is used to form new memories.

10. L-Theanine rich Green Tea

An amino acid in green tea called L-Theanine can reduce anxiety and counteracts the stimulation caused by caffeine, allowing for better alertness and focus.

We love these brain foods so much that we've included many of them in our new Go! Gano smart beverages! Our Go! Gano RESTORE contains superfoods such as spinach, açai berry and turmeric powder. We've also included foods from this list in our new Go! Gano REVIVE for energy and balance. These include natural caffeine from green coffee beans, L-theanine to help balance the caffeine, and important nutrients like zinc, magnesium, vitamin E and vitamin B!

8 REASONS TO IMPROVE CIRCULATION

The human body includes a vast network of more than 60,000 miles of blood vessels transporting blood between the heart and all its living tissue cells. A heartbeat is the pump that allows the blood to flow, from your brain, to your fingers and your toes. The heart beats about 35 million times in a year, hard at work. Blood flows from the heart through the arteries, from large to small and finally to tiny capillaries that deliver nutrients to cells before returning using a system of veins to get back to the heart.

Supporting this healthy circulation of blood is part of a healthy lifestyle. At Gano Excel, we're all about that healthy lifestyle. We love healthy habits, like eating a balanced diet and staying active. With greater health, we are able to help more people and enjoy more of life. Supporting healthy circulation also comes with some great benefits. Here are some of the top reasons we found.

1. Healthy Nails and Skin

Beautiful nails and skin benefit from the nutrient-rich blood supply carried by the capillaries that span your body, especially in your fingers and toes.

2. Hair Growth

Circulation in your scalp delivers essential nutrients and oxygen needed during the anagen phase of hair growth, while the hair follicle is actively growing. Increased blood flow supports this process.

3. Staying Warm

The body uses the expansion and contraction of blood vessels to moderate body temperature. In cold weather, healthy circulation helps you to feel warm, especially in the extremities such as your hands and feet.

4. Sexual Stamina

Healthy blood flow is beneficial for sex in both men and women. Circulation in the sex organs helps with arousal and sustained pleasure. Conversely, poor circulation can be a factor in dysfunction.

5. Self-Healing

The body has a wonderful natural capacity for healing itself after a wound. To accomplish this, it sends reinforcements to the area through the blood, and healthy circulation helps this process to go smoothly.

6. Fighting Infections

Other reinforcements the body sends through the bloodstream are for the body's immune system. When an infection arises, healthy circulation transports immune cells to the affected area to fight. Like with wounds, improving blood flow to this area can help.

7. Detoxification

The constant flow of blood through the cardiovascular network also helps to filter out waste and other toxins that have made their way into the bloodstream. While the heart pumps your blood through the body, the lymphatic system relies on a steady current to carry these toxins away.

8. Provides Natural Energy

Transporting oxygen and nutrients to cells energizes them to perform more efficiently. This is true also for the brain, where an essential supply of oxygen can help you feel more alert and focused.

Exercise and a healthy diet enriched with Ganoderma lucidum can help support healthy circulation in the body. In turn, helping your blood to deliver vital oxygen and nutrients to all of your organs will help you look and feel great.

As a note, if you notice signs that your circulation may be in trouble, make sure to discuss it with your doctor. Ganoderma lucidum products are not intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease. Heart disease is serious and immediate medical attention may be necessary.

SWEET BLUEBERRY & GREENS MOUSSE

Pull together this heavenly dessert that is an antioxidant gold mine. Fresh blueberries combine with Go! Gano RESTORE's mix of spirulina, goji berry, and Ganoderma lucidum to provide hundreds of antioxidants in every bite. The smooth and creamy mousse is deliciously sweet with a little tangy twist thanks to the sour cream and cream cheese. Easy to prepare and fun to enjoy, each indulgent bite is sure to satisfy.

Ingredients:

- 1 cup blueberries, plus extra for garnish
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ tsp salt
- 1 cup sour cream
- 8 ounces cream cheese, at room temperature
- 1 sachet Go! Gano RESTORE
- 1 cup heavy cream, chilled
- 2 Tbsp powdered sugar

Directions:

1. In a small saucepan, combine the blueberries, sugar and salt. Bring to a simmer over medium heat, mashing the blueberries as you go. Once simmering, cook for about 8 minutes while continuing to mash and stir the mixture, until thickened to a jam consistency. Remove from heat.
2. Scrape the blueberry jam into a food processor and let cool completely.
3. Cut cream cheese into cubes and add them to the food processor. The cream cheese should be softened at room temperature to ensure a smooth texture. Add the sour cream and Go! Gano RESTORE to the food processor and puree until smooth.
4. In a large bowl, beat the heavy cream until soft peaks form. You can whisk vigorously for about 8 minutes, or use an electric hand mixer for about 1 minute. Add the powdered sugar and whisk until combined.
5. Gently fold the berry cream mixture into the whipped cream until combined completely.
6. Spoon the mousse into six glasses or ice cream dishes and top with additional blueberries. Keep cool until enjoyed.

Evangelina Farias is a new Diamond from San Diego, California. Her Gano Excel business boomed in 2020, launching her to Gold and now to Diamond less than a year later. As a single mom working in a small café, Evangelina's Gano Excel business has opened up more freedom for her and her three children. Now more than ever, Evangelina sees more people interested in supporting their health in every way possible. One only has to look at the growth of the wellness industry to see that a healthy lifestyle has become a priority for more people. She is motivated to SHARE all the wellness benefits of Ganoderma lucidum with as many people as she can.

Evangelina believes that a healthy lifestyle begins with awareness. She has started a 21-day challenge to pay attention to what her family consumes, and make an effort to replace unhealthy foods with healthy options instead. Every morning, she prepares GanoCafè C'Real and a cup of GanoCafè coffee for herself, while her daughter enjoys C'Real with a cup of GanoCafè Rooibos tea. Evangelina says she may even like them more than water! That's because of all the wonderful nutrients they contain, and less than three grams of sugar. She has seen tremendous interest in the new products, especially from younger customers. They love the trend of green juices and find Go! Gano easier to prepare while featuring all-natural ingredients like spinach, citrus and berries.

PAOLA ORTIZ

JACKSONVILLE, FL

Paola Andrea Ortiz Arroyave joined Gano Excel in 2017. She lives in Jacksonville, Florida with her husband and two young sons, Nicolás and Agustín. When she and her husband moved to Jacksonville in 2016, they soon learned they were expecting their first child. She treasured the thought of being a mom. She and husband decided together that she would step back from working outside the home to care for their new baby boy. Her husband continued his full-time work to provide for the family economically. But with a 50% reduction in income, it was only a matter of time before Paola's family began to feel a squeeze on their finances. She remembers the day that they ran out of diapers for their newborn baby, and didn't have the money to buy more. Her husband's paycheck would come in two days and until then she felt stuck. She knew that she needed an opportunity. She did not want to give up her full-time role as a mother, so she investigated ways to work from home, with a flexible schedule, and enough earning potential to cover expenses. That's when she discovered Gano Excel.

Her husband took some winning over. When Paola first enrolled with Gano Excel, he wasn't convinced how beneficial her new endeavor would be. As her business grew, Paola began to be able to afford more special occasions for her family. She could buy Christmas gifts, take her husband out to dinner, and even rent a cabin for a week away, all paid for by her Gano Excel business. Now, her husband sees the benefit her business has had on their lifestyle.

This transformation has empowered Paola as a woman, wife and mother. What began as a quest to secure diapers has opened up Paola's eyes to the opportunities a Gano Excel business could provide her family. She could envision accomplishing goals like having financial freedom and building a legacy, while also sustaining the time she wanted to spend with her family. All this has changed her mentality to one that believes she can achieve her goals and her dreams. Paola continues to believe she made the right decision to become a full-time mom. She is thankful the Gano Excel opportunity empowers her to hold on to this dream.

While so many other businesses have struggled over the past year, Paola has seen growth thanks to the power of network marketing. She started out with her mobile phone and almost no contacts. Social media and video calls have been her greatest tools. The pandemic led more people to discover apps like Zoom that allow anyone to place video calls on a computer or mobile device. This created an opportunity for Paola to connect with people more easily, and to reach more people than she previously could.

Paola uses an online platform her husband designed that allows her to train and teach her team about growing a successful Gano Excel business. Paola has created step-by-step videos that guide her team of Affiliates through the basics. She meets with her team daily and hosts weekly meetings to SHARE the opportunity with others. Using social media platforms like WhatsApp and Facebook have allowed her to reach many people with information, testimonials and encouragement.

Now, she is working to reach the rank of Diamond. She believes that with her fantastic team she can achieve it before the end of 2021. Paola says, "Never abandon your purpose or your dreams." She says that everyone meets times when their business is challenged. It is important not to give up. Through persistence, she believes that the results will come in time. In those times, she encourages Affiliates to remember the vision of Mr. Leow Soon Seng: to spread health and wealth to every household. Believing in the power of that vision has motivated Paola to persevere. "Hold that calling close to your heart, because if we keep going our success will become a reality."

LIVING UP TO OUR FULL POTENTIAL

At Gano Excel, we love to watch our Affiliates reach new milestones, grow their businesses and achieve the success that catapults them from one rank to the next. Seeing such transformation invigorates everyone around them. It shows that change is possible and paints an excellent picture of what a revitalized life can look like.

We recognize these wonderful Affiliates for their achievements, focus and dedication. Seeing the difference you are making is an incredible privilege. We know that when we focus on the positive and rewarding aspects of our business, we are working together as a team for the company and for each person's "why."

Please help us express our gratitude for their hard work!
