CEO MESSAGE

Good news and great ideas are worth sharing, aren't they? When I think of some of the best ideas I've ever heard, they were not easy to keep to myself. When you hear fantastic news, you almost feel compelled to share with another person, and then another, and then another. It is difficult to contain. Not only do great ideas brighten the days of individual people, but as their light spreads, they can change the course of history.

Among these ideas is the belief that the inherent dignity of mankind, endowed by a creator, vests all of humanity with certain natural rights. If that sounds familiar, you may be thinking of the famous preamble to the United States' Declaration of Independence, which names three of those unalienable rights as life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. However, this famous text is only one expression of a belief about inherent human rights that started centuries before. From Cyrus the Great in 539 BC, to the Magna Carta in 1215, the Declaration of the Rights of the Man and of the Citizen in 1789, and the Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations after World War II have each set to further define what core rights humanity shares. This idea has led to slaves being set free, more governments being elected by their citizens, tolerance in the face of racism, and the establishment of certain acts of war as crimes against humanity.

What may have started as an idea has become reality. Recognizing the individual intelligence, morality and liberty of each person has further given rise to other ideas, including modern democracy, free market economies, healthcare equality and modern philanthropy. When people have the intelligence, moral compass and freedom to choose how they shape their government and society, it empowers people to vote, to build, and to SHARE.

Imagine the impact you can have by simply sharing the health and wealth of Ganoderma lucidum. Start with one person; then, make it two. Pretty soon you will be ready to SHARE with everyone you know.

Sincerely,

Mr. Ooi Chin Aik,
Chief Executive Officer, Gano Excel | North America

JENNIFER GARNER'S FARM-TO-FABULOUS SUCCESS

Great entrepreneurs have a heart for solving problems, and sharing their solutions with others. It starts with a great idea, but it doesn't stop there. It is connecting that solution to the people who need it. That is the role that Jennifer Garner immediately knew she could fulfill when she learned about Once Upon a Farm.

Jennifer Garner is known for her roles in Hollywood films and television, but she comes from a much more grounded upbringing. Her family owned a small farm in Oklahoma and her mother grew food for the family to eat. They moved to West Virginia when Jennifer was young, but the farm stayed in the family and after her successful career it came under her care. She had been contemplating taking on a business opportunity, but had not found the right fit for her. Then she found Once Upon a Farm, a tiny start-up operation that made ready-to-eat snack pouches for babies with cold-pressed fresh, healthy ingredients.

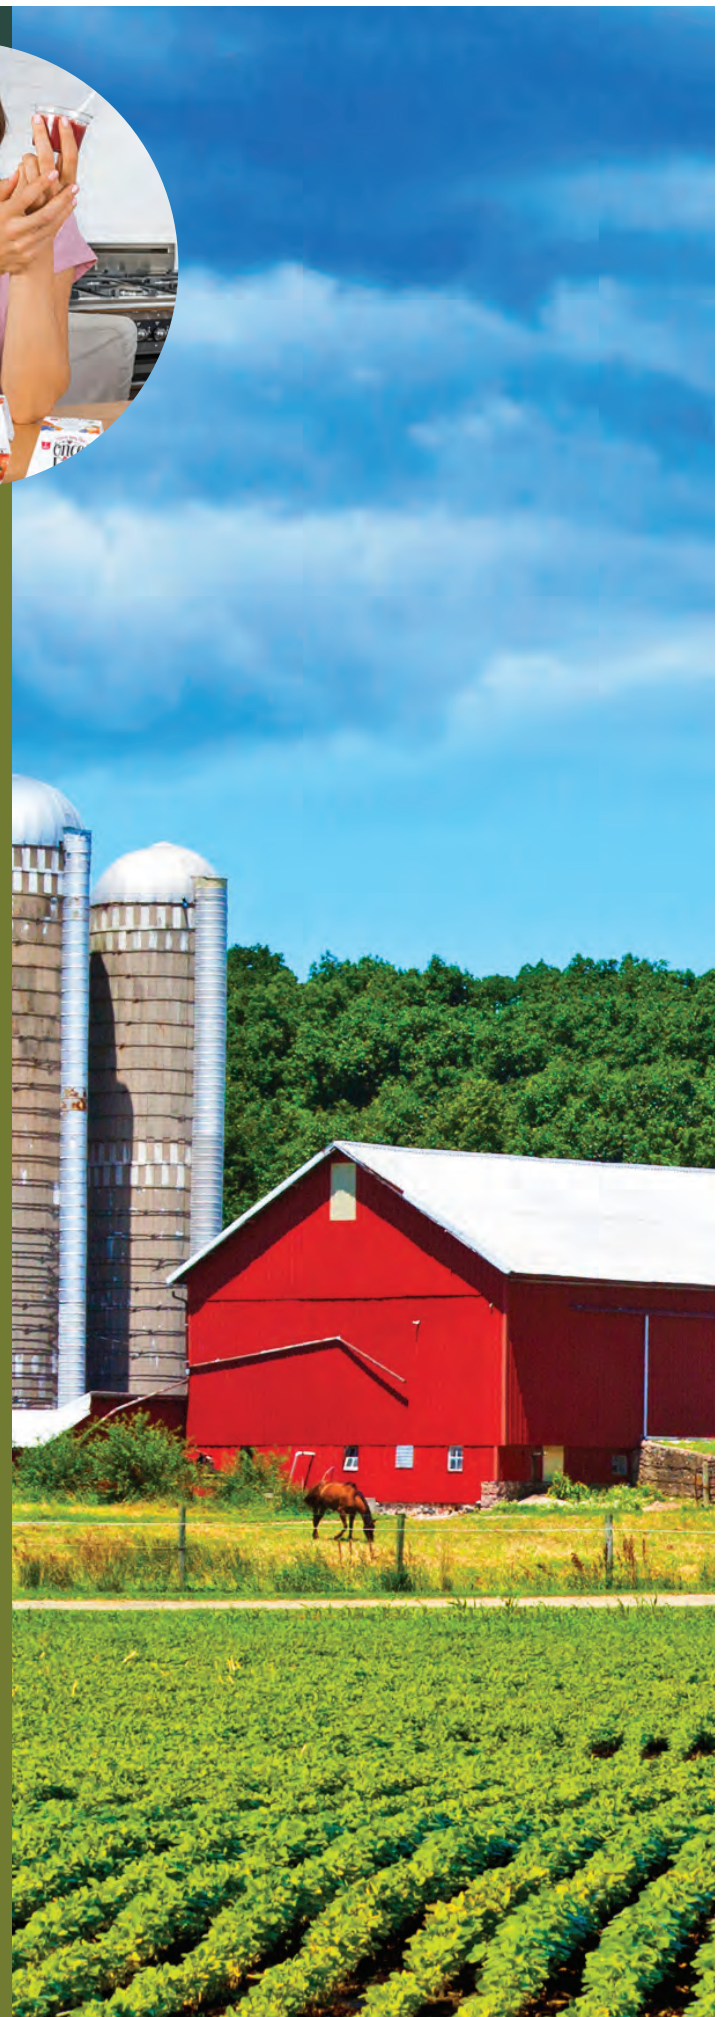

She immediately saw the connections she could make. As a mom of young children, she recognized the need that this product filled in her own life. She loved the connection it made to her family's farm roots. And although she herself was definitely not a farmer, she could use her star power to promote the brand to other moms. She also saw the potential to connect this company with the work she does with Save the Children, a nonprofit fighting child hunger.

So, Jennifer and her business partner John Foraker took the leap and joined as co-founders in 2018. Over the last four years, they have led the company to grow to 50 employees and an estimated $10 million in annual sales. Now, Once Upon a Farm products are sold in more than 10,000 stores across the USA. It may sound like things magically worked out, but Jennifer admits that there was a lot of learning involved, along with new challenges that forced her to grow as a businesswoman.

As they analyzed their product's market performance, they noticed that the biggest consumers of Once Upon a Farm were older kids, not babies. So, they made some changes with their marketing and packaging in order to leverage this opportunity. She also recalled in an interview that her company was not immune to shipping challenges. Like many others, Once Upon a Farm was waiting on materials stuck in the shipping backlog at the port of Los Angeles. But with every challenge, comes a new opportunity to learn. She keeps a positive attitude and focuses on her opportunity to SHARE her great products with kids from every background.

When entrepreneurs succeed at sharing their solutions with the people who need them, the reward can be extraordinary. Their profits are earned from all of the energy, time and passion they put into making the perfect product that meets the needs of their customers. Experience the profits you can make by sharing excellent products with others! Gano Excel offers 11 Ways to Earn, from retail profits to binary commissions, fast start and leadership bonuses to benefit short and long term growth.

The best part is that Mr. Leow has spent nearly 40 years with Ganoderma lucidum in order to enrich your coffee with the best wellness benefits possible. He has built the company; now you get to benefit! His Ganoderma-enriched products are ready to go. Now, you can be a part of this mission to share health and wealth with every household in the world. Like Jennifer Garner, look for opportunities to step in and connect people in need with products that you love. Make those connections today and everyday. You can socialize with purpose and satisfaction.

DIAMOND GALLERY

Diamond Víctor López and Executive Diamond Hipolita González

When Gano Excel entered our lives back in 2009, we were living in Florida. Victor was skeptical of the concept of network marketing, but his wife, Executive Diamond Hipolita Gonzalez was ready to take action. She made the decision to pack her belongings and relocate to California to pursue this career full-time. She saw it as a great opportunity for growth and development and she felt that it was critical to be close to the corporate headquarters and to participate in the events. Hipolita knew she had made the right choice.

Six months after seeing the organization's growth, Victor was ready to come on board. We sold our Florida home and decided to go into business together. We began full-time employment at Gano Excel. We worked for four years to establish a strong organization. Looking back today, it was the best decision that could have been made.

We are both working side by side. Our business enabled us to change zip codes and purchase a home in Williams, California. We are able to drive the cars and trucks we want. Our family has traveled to wonderful places such as Spain, Malaysia, Hawaii thanks to the work team at Gano Excel. Our team organization is in Chicago, Florida, Las Vegas, Washington, and several Mexican cities. Today, we can enjoy our children and their activities without having to worry about money. Our residual income allows us to be financially independent.

To be successful in Gano Excel, you must have dreams and visualize yourself achieving them within a specific time frame. My wife and I always organize ourselves, make a list of goals, and set deadlines for ourselves to achieve them. We work every day as a team. I want to remind you that you must persevere and never give up until you reach your goal. "Persistence will end resistance."

Premier Diamonds Blanca Solorio and Rocio Peralta

Blanca and Rocio were introduced to Gano Excel in 2009. Blanca first learned that by sharing everyday beverages enriched with Ganoderma lucidum, and especially coffee, her favorite, she could start her own business and stop being an employee. Without hesitation, she made the decision. She dreamed of being a successful businesswoman - something my Gano Excel business offers her. Soon after, she brought the opportunity to Rocio and they decided to work together as partners.

They began to grow their business with the help of their team. Blanca remembers how important this factor was to supporting their success. "When you do not have experience it is not easy, but once you discover the benefits of teamwork you realize how powerful it is." Something that she recommends for people who are starting is to read a book that helped her a lot. The book helped her to discover how to work in a team and influence them to say "yes" to the business opportunity. It's called "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

Thanks to her Gano Excel business, Rocio also notes how her lifestyle has changed. She and Blanca have both attained the Premier Diamond rank. She's been able to win several trips with her family and team. She's been to New York, Hawaii, Las Vegas, and Disneyland. Now, she continues to conduct business on a daily basis in order to advance to the next rank.

Gano Excel is without a doubt the best business opportunity that has come up in their lives. Blanca and Rocio are infinitely grateful to God, their families, Gano Excel and each other for being part of their success story.

SHINING STARS

VICKIE MENDOZA

I began as a consumer in 2009. I began researching all of Ganoderma Lucidum's properties and shared my findings with team colleagues in the organization. Within a short period of time, an organization began to form, and weekly checks began to arrive. They started out as $25 checks and quickly multiplied. When my first child was born in 2011, I decided to stay at home and enjoy my baby. The residual income I've been receiving for the past 11 years is extra money that allows me to spend time with my family. Because of my experience in business administration, our organization grew and has remained one of the company's oldest and strongest. There are people in the organization who, like me, are looking for extra income while still being able to spend time with their families. At the start of your career, you must be patient, learn from successful people, observe their methods of operation, and set personal goals. I've always said that AutoShips are the lifeblood of your company. It's what keeps your company running. "You can do it, and you will do it."

TERESA MARTÍNEZ

She is a very focused leader who, along with her Gano Excel team, enjoys supporting the Affiliates with whom she collaborates.

I'm so glad I'm able to help them reach those goals."

DIAMOND EXCELLERS

LIVING UP TO OUR FULL POTENTIAL

We are so incredibly proud of each of these individuals who are making a difference through the simple, but powerful, act of sharing. It has allowed them to earn and advance in their businesses simply by sharing Gano Excel's products and opportunities. Now, we are happy to share in the excitement of their success! Watching each person grow, achieve and discover a new definition of what is possible for them is a fulfilling experience.
